INNOVATIVE LEARNING

In addition to in-person, online and remote learning options, we're always looking for new ways for you to easily balance priorities like work and family with completing your degree. One example of this is our convenient BlendEd format.

Each week, you have the option to choose how you learn based on what works for you. Have an upcoming business trip? Watch class online when it fits your schedule. Need to stay home with your child? Attend remotely so you don't miss out on anything. Want to further your connection with instructors? Join us on campus for in-person learning. Our curriculum really is built with you in mind!

“

Being a student while working full-time can be difficult. Given that I was able to design a course based on a work-related project allowed for an easier balance between work and school.
